Interested in learning more about plant-based eating, development, non-profit work or sustainability?

- ❖ Do you run a small NGO or program that you have questions about? Are you looking to make improvements to strategic plans, donor relations or other areas?
- ❖ Are you considering starting a new NGO? Wondering whether you should create a new organization or support an existing NGO? Not sure what approach is best?
- ❖ Want to reduce the waste or carbon footprint of an event you are planning?
- ❖ Maybe you want to assess how to best distribute your annual charitable donations and aren't sure how to tell if a project is making good use of your donor dollars.
- ❖ Have questions about an organization that you have supported in the past or are considering donating to in the future? Not sure if you should make some changes to your giving plan?
- ❖ Have questions or ideas for a project that you would like to collaborate on?

Whatever your questions, I would love to work with you to help find solutions.

About Me

I have a Bachelor of Theology, and a Bachelor/ Master of Arts (International Development). I have several years of NGO experience in Cairo, Egypt and I speak basic Egyptian Arabic. After taking some time off with young children, I am now in a new phase of my career, working on sustainable development from a variety of perspectives. I have been 100% plant-based for many years, and I love working with individuals, groups and organizations to help them achieve their goals. Whatever it is that you are looking for - whether it is consulting, or the chance to collaborate on a project, I would love to work with you!
